

2010 and beyond:

Shaping the places where people want to live.

The framework and approach to development and urban regeneration has changed dramatically during recent years – and more so than ever in 2010.

Total Place and Placemaking have emerged as increasingly important priorities for local and regional Government. Planning for Real – delivered as a not-for-profit service – is ideally placed to help YOU involve local people in shaping the places where they live.

It puts people in real control which ensures that people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities are able to participate and have their say. And it's the ideal tool for partnership working, bringing people together in a common cause.

Planning for Real. More relevant than ever.

2010 and beyond:

Shaping the places where people want to live.

The framework and approach to development and urban regeneration has changed dramatically during recent years – and more so than ever in 2010.

Total Place and Placemaking have emerged as increasingly important priorities for local and regional Government. Planning for Real – delivered as a not-for-profit service – is ideally placed to help YOU involve local people in shaping the places where they live.

It puts people in real control which ensures that people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities are able to participate and have their say. And it's the ideal tool for partnership working, bringing people together in a common cause.

Planning for Real. More relevant than ever.

2010 and beyond:

Shaping the places where people want to live.

The framework and approach to development and urban regeneration has changed dramatically during recent years – and more so than ever in 2010.

Total Place and Placemaking have emerged as increasingly important priorities for local and regional Government. Planning for Real – delivered as a not-for-profit service – is ideally placed to help YOU involve local people in shaping the places where they live.

It puts people in real control which ensures that people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities are able to participate and have their say. And it's the ideal tool for partnership working, bringing people together in a common cause.

Planning for Real. More relevant than ever.